

PI in the Sky: Think Big, Do Math!

41st Annual Conference
May 7-8, 2009

Mark your Calendars! Arrange for your subs! Get your funding approved early!

Planning has already begun for the 2009 conference. The theme of the conference is
PI in the Sky: Think Big, Do Math!

If you have ideas or strategies to share, consider submitting a proposal. Select either a 60-minute sectional or 90-minute workshop with a topic that relates to one or more of the following guidelines:

Let's set our sights high (and not just in Geometry)!

- What's happening with you and mathematics that's working well? Show us!
- Do you have strategies to help all learners in your care achieve to their highest potential? Educate us!
- How are you implementing ideas from PI-34? Share with us!
- What kinds of goals are you and/or your students setting and meeting? Tell us!
- Where are you using opportunities to link mathematics topics to each other, other disciplines or the world?
Teach us!

You are the greatest thing about mathematics education in Wisconsin!
Join us, share your ideas and help immerse others in the issues that will help us rise to the challenges of the future!

The grade band choices for different sessions are PK-1, 2-3, 4-6, 6-8, 9-12, and 13-16.

All proposals for the conference will be considered, however proposals relating to the guidelines will be given first preference.

The Deadline for submitting proposals is October 1, 2008.

The Speaker Application is on the reverse side.

Be a presenter...

Share with and learn from a dynamic network of teachers and other professionals dedicated to improving the mathematical learning of all students.
